THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, SATURDAY, AUGUST 13, 1870. | VOLUME III---NUMBER 46

Evening Edition.

Atlanta, Georgia, August 13, 1870

☞ The Courier des Etats Unis claims for the French a final victory at Weissenburg.

☞ Governor Bullock, through his organ, flings dirt, this morning, using the words "ribald Democratic sheets." We have, before to-day, seen many an individual of the bovine species, in a fury of disappointment, madly horn the ground and kick up a dust which only soiled himself.

☞ The Swedish Prima Donna, Christine Nilsson, has engaged with manager Strakosch to sing in the United States six weeks for the round sum of one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars in gold. She will appear in New York at the French theatre, in Italian opera, on the 19th of September.

☞ If men conspire together to steal away the liberties of the people—to trample upon the constitution of the State they have sworn to support, and nullify the letter, spirit and intent of Congress—no sort of white-washing by Governor Bullock, with the aid of his organ, can remove the dark stains upon their reputations, put there by themselves, and by themselves indelibly tattooed.

☞ That prominent commercial man who volunteered his consolatory remarks to Governor Bullock, and of whom he makes mention in his organ as having "remarked a few days since that he never thought any less of a man for having been traduced and slandered by these reckless Democratic sheets," went out of his way to slander his neighbors, unless his occupation is that of a dealer in "fats," which is quite probable, since the Governor's organ advertises that he retails "soft soap."

The Nathan Murder.

A mystery still hangs around the Nathan murder. If the chief of police of New York has a theory he is trying to work out, he has failed to divulge it. The suspicion that has rested upon the minds of many that Mr. Nathan was murdered by the hands of his own son, seems to be subsiding, though it is not wholly dispelled. There certainly was much want of skill on the part of the coroner in his management of the investigation on the first day he empaneled his jury.

Much stress is laid by the detectives and others upon the importance of ascertaining if the carpenter's "dog," the instrument with which Mr. Nathan was killed, was an old inmate of the house or premises.

One theory attaches great consequence to the circumstance of a man having been seen to pick up a piece of paper on the steps of Mr. Nathan's house on the morning of the murder. This theory presupposed the existence of a contract for a large amount of stocks of some kind predicated upon certain war contingencies, with a broker, who has not been seen or heard of since the night of the murder. It points to said broker as the murderer.

Our exchanges from New York in the last few days are comparatively silent in regard to the investigation of the murder. We are left to surmise either that the public interest in regard to it has subsided, or that the detectives have made such progress towards a discovery as to demand more reticence than heretofore.

The murder epidemic has not subsided in Gotham. For since the murder of Mr. Nathan, about three men, on an average, have been killed every day in the commercial metropolis of America.

☞ A test trial of the Montgomery and Plimpton skate will take place to-night. The Montgomery Advertiser says:

The Montgomery skate, invented in this city by Dr. Freeman and Mr. Carkeet, and patented by Colonel C. D. Jackson, seems, from all experience so far, to be sure of becoming the most popular roller-skate in use. It has "worked like a charm" in every instance where it has been tried. Its advantages over the Plimpton skate—the one in use in this city last spring—are acknowledged even by the friends and agents of the proprietors of the Plimpton; one of whom, Professor Ehrmon, now in our city, has determined to get from the proprietors the right to use it in cities of Tennessee, where he has heretofore been making a most successful run with the Plimpton. After a careful trial, Professor E., acknowledging, after a thorough investigation of the mechanism of each, that the Montgomery skate was no infringement on the patent of the Plimpton, declared his belief that the former would be the only one in use. The different experiments that have been made with it in this city have been highly satisfactory; and we are pleased indeed to chronicle that its success is now an accomplished fact.

Colonel Jackson has already expended more than $50,000 on the Montgomery invention. Major Arnold and the Colonel are now building, on Court street, an elegant City Hall. The first floor will consist of three splendid stores, admirably arranged and handsomely frescoed; the hall will be used for public purposes except during the skating season.

The Prospect.

The Democratic party has gained four members of Congress in North Carolina, where a gain of only two was claimed. They have good reason to hope to swell their number from sixty-six in the present House to, at least, one hundred and thirty-one in the next Congress.

The Washington organ of Governor Bullock and the Superintendent of the State Road, (The Chronicle) of the 9th says, (and its voice is woful and mournful:)

The living question is: Are the Republicans of the United States ready to surrender the next Congress—the Presidential Congress—to the rebel Democracy? Let us see where these Democratic gains are to be made. Four are set down from Pennsylvania, ten from New York, and seven from Ohio. We need not enumerate the districts; the bare statement of the expectation is enough. Nor need we add argument to invoke Republicans to work. Our object now is to let our friends see what is anticipated from their own indifference or disaffection, call it which you please. Here are the great States of this Union, which have most profited by the overthrow of the rebellion, counted upon by the rebel Democracy to make up a Congress which can have but one object, viz: The restoration of the rebellion in all departments of the government. Let us look at these figures for a moment. The Democratic force in the present House is sixty-six, to which Republican Pennsylvania and Ohio, and what would be Republican New York, but for the audacious corruptions of New York city, are expected to add TWENTY-ONE. Are we ready for this baseness?

We omit from this article the anticipated Democratic gains from the Southern States. They expect to gain four in Virginia. And they will unless our friends in that State cease dissensions. And they expect to gain seven in Georgia. And they will get these if an election can be forced this year to destroy Bullock, destroy his Legislature, and give Joshua Hill and his set a chance to trade with Toombs and Stephens.

The salvation of the new Congress is with the North in the coming elections. If Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York are reasonably true to themselves, we will save it. If not, we shall lose it. That Congress is a matter of vital importance. It is a thousand times more so than the choice of presidents before the war. Upon it may depend the whole structure of the Government—its faith, its honor, its very existence. The issue itself is one that transcends administrations and ambition. It is one that demands sacrifice, and we trust that no man who loves his country, in or out of office, will refuse to do his uttermost to save the Republic from a rebel House in the last year of Grant's Administration.

These utterances indicate the hopes, the fears, and the probable programme of the destructives, whom the Chronicle speaks for. They are worthy of study by every opponent of corruption. If the "prolongation" iniquity can be revivified in the interest of the party in power, it will be done. Mark that!

A Card.

CALHOUN, GA., August 6, 1870.

Hon. J. C. Fain, Atlanta, Ga: Dear Sir—It appears from your card published in the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION of the 21st of June last, that you understood my card published in the same paper of June 17th, over the signature of "Observer," to charge or implicate you with being connected in some way with an improper wood transaction. I will say here, while the language used by me might possibly be construed so as to be understood that it was intended by me to insinuate that you were in some way connected with the transaction, I most positively intended no such thing. I did not intend to make any charge against you or Captain McConnell; and if any insinuation seemed to be made, it was only from the fact that I was unfortunate in the language used. Your card, unexplained, can not be otherwise construed than making a grave charge upon my private character. Therefore, I desire, and I think it due me, for the public to know whether you intended your card, published as above stated, only as a reply to my card, published as aforesaid over the signature of "Observer," or whether it was your opinion of my private character. Please let me hear from you.

Respectfully yours,
E. J. KIKER.

ATLANTA, GA., August 12, 1870.

E. J. Kiker, Esq., Calhoun, Ga: DEAR SIR—Yours of the 6th instant is at hand. In reply I will say that but for your communication, I would not have replied in the strong and abusive language which I used. It was yours which brought forth my reply. I regret much that your communication was such that, in my opinion, made it necessary for me to so reply. I do not desire to injure either the public or private character of any one; and take pleasure in withdrawing from the public anything said in my reply which can possibly do your private character an injury.

Yours respectfully,
J. C. FAIN.

The Needle Gun.

1. The range of the needle-gun is from 1,200 to 1,400 yards, and not four or five miles.

2. The movements of loading are executed with the right hand, as follows: An upward stroke with the palm of the right hand against the chamber knob opens the breech, the cartridge is inserted into the cavity of the barrel, a push forward and a downward stroke of the chamber knob with the right hand closes the breech, and another push on the needle chamber (with its spiral spring) completes the loading and the rifle is ready for "fire." During the whole movement the gun held with the left hand, at a "ready."

3. The gun is never loaded or reloaded while at "aim," simply because it is impossible to do so.

4. The powder is not ignited at the rear end of the cartridge, but next to the ball, where the igniting matter is placed in a kind of socket of papier mache; and this is what gives more power to the ball, the powder burning from the front to the rear.

5. The cartridge is made up—ball in front, socket with igniting matter, powder. The shape of the ball resembles the shape of a cucumber, and is called long-lead.

6. The recoil of the gun is only felt when it becomes very much heated and the air-chamber filled with the refuse of powder. When clean, no recoil is felt at all.

In case the needle should break, or behind, or otherwise becomes useless, a new one can be inserted in less than five seconds; each soldier carries an extra supply of about six needles.

It is not much the superiority of the needle-gun over other breech-loaders which has secured, and, in all probability, will, in the present struggle, secure success to the Prussian army, as it is the thorough education of each individual soldier, and his perfect familiarity with his weapon.

The needle-gun was first used in Prussia in 1848 and 1849, in Caden and Schleswig, and change of tactics, and especially of skirmish instruction, was almost condemned.

The Prussian army has but one calibre for all small arms, so that infantry or sharp-shooters can be supplied with carbine cartridge wagon. — Correspondent Chicago Tribune.

The Bridge at Kehl.

The bridge across the Rhine which connected Kehl with Strassburg, and which was blown up a few days ago by the local authorities, in consequence of a telegraphic mistake, was the first bridge of which the pier-foundations were laid according to the principles adopted in the construction of the bridge across the Mississippi at St. Louis. The plan for its construction and its management was determined in 1857, by an international treaty between the Grand Duke of Baden and the Cabinet of the Tuileries. The French engineers were to construct the abutments and the piers, whilst those of Baden had to build the superstructure.

The bridge was commenced in 1858 and finished in 1860. It has a double railway track and a road on each side for foot passengers, each about four feet wide. The whole length of the bridge between the abutments was 675 feet; it rested upon four water piers, separated 168 feet from each other, and terminated upon each side in a swinging bridge, which had to be opened for the passage of steamboats. The foundation of the water piers were laid by sinking the masonry down to its bed by compressed air. Sheet-iron caissons, the bottoms of which had the shape of the ground plan of the piers, were used to put up the masonry, which were sunk at a depth of sixty feet below the lowest water-mark.

The superstructure of the three central immovable spans was, perhaps, the most elegant of any bridge in Europe. The portals and the ornamentation on the cap of the piers were in the Gothic style, eight pinnacles of a corresponding height most ingeniously interrupting the monotony of the iron railings, which continued across the whole bridge and which were formed to support the railroad underneath.

It is evident that any government would delay the destruction of such a work until the last hope for peace had vanished.

CANNING TOMATOES.—In the Syracuse Union we find the following: The most thorough and reliable mode of canning tomatoes is as follows: They are just sufficiently steamed, not cooked, to scald or loosen the skin, and are then poured upon tables and the skin removed, care being taken to preserve the tomato in as solid a state as possible. After being peeled, they are placed in large pans, with false bottoms perforated with holes, so as to strain off the liquid that emanates from them. From these pans they are carefully placed by hand into the cans, which are filled as solidly as possible—in other words, all are put in that the cans will hold. They are then put through the usual process and hermetically sealed. The cans, when opened for use, present the tomato not only like the natural vegetable in taste and color, but also in appearance; and, moreover, when thus scalded, they are warranted to keep in any climate, and when opened, will taste as naturally as when thus plucked from the vine.

HARD ON CRINOLINE.—A country chap who recently visited the city for the first time, gives his views of the ladies in this way:

"Somewhars in every circumstance of silk and velvet that wriggled along there's allers a wuman, I 'spose, but how much of the holler is filled in with meat, and how much is gammon, the spectator dun no. A feller marrys a site, and finds, when it comes to the point, that hes nuthin' in his arms but a reg'lar anatomy. Ef men is gay desavers, wots to be said of the female that dressed for a hundred and forty weight, but hasn't reely as much fat on her as would grease a griddle?—all the aparient plumpness consisting of cotton and whalebone."

The Ages of European Warriors

Almost every war developes or brings to the surface one or more great soldiers, who either shape events, or are peculiarly favored by the chances or fortunes of war. For the young and ambitious men of both the French and Prussian armies, the present war would seem to afford an excellent opportunity for fame and promotion, for soon, in the natural course of events, all the great chiefs of both armies will be gathered to their fathers. We append a list of the names and ages of the gay old boys who are expected to lead the fiery onset of France and Prussia:

Louis Napoleon is over forty, and in infirm health.

Marshal McMahon, take him for all and all, perhaps the greatest soldier in the French army, is sixty-two.

Marshal Bazaine, personally the most reckless and daring of the French Marshals, is sixty-one.

Marshal Canrobert is supposed not to be in good health, and is over sixty.

Marshal Vaillant is in his eightieth year.

Marshal Count Baraguey is seventy-five.

Marshal Forey is sixty-six.

Marshal Randon is over seventy-five.

Marshal Changarnier, just promoted and placed in command of the reserves, is seventy-seven.

General Lebouef, a comparative youngster, who has relinquished the portfolio of war for an active command, is sixty-one.

General Palikao, who was also of late in the civil services of the Emperor, is seventy-four.

The conduct of the war on the Prussian side will be entrusted to Baron Von Moltke who displayed in the war against Austria extraordinary genius, and who may be counted in this fight as the greatest strategist in Europe, will be seventy years of age next October.

The figure heads in the Prussian army are the Crown Prince Frederick William, son-in-law of Queen Victoria, and Prince Frederick, who is under forty, and Prince Frederick Charles, who is nearly seventy.

Editor of Selma Times: Please insert the following and oblige a sorrowing mother:

I wish to call upon the officers and privates of 16th Louisiana regiment, Confederate States Army, or any one, in order to learn something of my boy, Walter Charles Heartt. He left home with the above regiment February 18, 1862. He was in his tenth year, had fair skin, light hair, dark gray eyes. The last I ever heard from him was April 18, 1862. I received a letter dated Corinth, Mississippi, written, at his suggestion, by J. W. Connell, of Memphis, Tennessee. If this should meet the eye of the above named gentleman, or any one, he will much oblige a widowed mother by addressing the undersigned, in care of M. F. Bigney, editor of the New Orleans Times. AFFAIRS IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—Advices received in Washington from South Carolina show that Radical political affairs in that State are considerably muddled. The Convention in the First District is to be held on the 16th instant, and Whittemore will be opposed by a colored man of some strength, though he declares he will run whether regularly nominated or not. In the Second District there are two Republican candidates, each claiming the regular nomination. The colored man, it is thought, will prove the strongest. In the Third District a colored man has got the regular nomination, but the friends of Hoge, the present member, are much dissatisfied and somewhat belligerent. In the Fourth District Convention there was a noisy row, and one-third of the delegates withdrew, when the others re-nominated Wallace. The opinion is expressed that the Republicans are likely to lose the Fourth, and possibly one of the other districts. Senator Sawyer is involved in the Charleston quarrel, the Mackeys and their followers being determined to break him down. It is said that he more than holds his own and will beat them in the game.

☞ The Dubuque Times says: "John W. S. Robinson, a farmer living at Calamus, Clinton county, Iowa, has forged deeds, running to himself, of seven different farms, amounting in all to about 840 acres, being all improved farms, and has had his deeds recorded, and procured an abstract of his titles—borrowed money on the forged titles, giving mortgages on the land—forged discharges, and has had the discharges recorded, and was just starting to make another loan in Chicago, when it was discovered by J. D. Fegan, the Recorder, that something was wrong. Then the whole matter was exploded. It has now been discovered that he has been operating in Marshall county, Iowa, in notes and mortgages; borrowing money of all his friends, and despositing said notes as collateral. From the present appearance, he has duplicated and even tripulated the notes, and possibly still worse. There is no evidence that any of them are genuine. Marshall and State Center were his base of Western operations. He has evidently swindled his friends out of from $50,000 to $70,000. The whole county is excited, and no case like it has ever been heard of in the United States, on so broad and large a scale. He has $100,000 life insurance, carried in five or six of the first companies of the country. As yet he has not been arrested, but is believed to be in the hands of his friends in the country, sick and perfectly broken down.

Relative Profits of Cotton and Corn

The following very sinsible letter, written by one of our citizens to the New York Economist, is clipped from that paper:

ROME, GA., July 23, 1870.

To the Editor of the U. S. Economist:

DEAR SIR—In your issue of the 18th instant, in an article headed "The Growing Cotton Crop," you say that a "planter can buy very nearly ten acres of corn with the proceeds of a single acre of cotton, and there is no good reason why he should not do it." The man who wrote this certainly never raised cotton, or even lived in a cotton growing section. Allow me to give you a few facts in the case: The land in this section of country (Cherokee Georgia) which is generally considered above the average in quality, will not produce, on an average, more than one-half bale of 500 pounds lint cotton to the acre, which, at the present price, 18c for good cotton, in this market, would be $45. Now the same land will yield 20 bushels of corn, on the average, per acre, which, at the present price here, $1 55 per bushel, makes $37. Multiply this by ten, your estimate, and it gives $310. Difference in what one thinks and another knows, $265. Knowing the above statements to be correct, don't you think an editor South would fall far short of his duty did he not deplore the excessive planting of cotton?

There is another thing to be considered. You think, and so it seems to me must every thinking man, that cotton must be much lower in price the coming season, which will make the matter worse.

Let me give you the picture of a planter who last year raised cotton exclusively. His plantation growing crop, and not unfrequently stock, is all mortgaged to commission merchants to raise money to buy corn and other necessaries. He pays for the use of this money 2 per cent. interest and principal payable when he sells his cotton. With this he buys corn at $1 55, he can make money raising for $1, and bacon at 21c, he can raise at a profit of 16c., etc. Should disaster befall his cotton crop, as is by no means improbable, such as army worm or rust, he is a broke man. This is an over true report of every cotton planter.

Your man makes good figures, but his remarks show a woful want of practical knowledge of the subject.

Yours, HENRY C. NORTON.

"BAD BLOOD."

"The Life is the Blood."

FROM it we derive our strength, beauty, and mental capabilities. It is the centre of our being, around which revolves all that makes existence happy. When this source is corrupted the painful effects are visible in many shapes, prominent among which is

SCROFULA.

This is a taint or infection of the human organism, and probably no one is wholly free from it. It exhibits itself in various shapes—as Ulcers and Sores, Decayed Bones, Diseased Scalp, Sore Eyes, Weak and Diseased Joints, St. Vitus' Dance, Foul Discharges from the Nostrils, Eruptions, Glandular Swellings, Throat Affections, Rheumatism, Heart Affections, Nervous Disorders, Barreness, Disorders of the Womb, Dropsy, Syphilitic Affeions, Liver Complaint, Salt Rheum, Dyspepsia, Neuralgia, Loss of Manhood and General Debility.

It has been the custom to treat these diseases with Mercury and other Mineral substances, which, though ometimes producing a cure, often prove injurious and entails misery in after life. The long known injurious properties of these so called alteratives and purifiers has led the philanthropical man of science to explore the arena of nature, the result of which has been the discovery of a vegetable product which possess the power of eradicating these Taints from the Blood.

THE WORLD'S WONDER.

DR. ABBETT'S ANTI-DYSPEPTIC

—OR—

LIVER MEDICINE

A SAFE and certain cure for all kinds of Liver Complaints, and all diseases and indispositions that originate from a diseased state or inactivity of the Liver, such as

Chronic and Acute Inflammations of the Liver,
Dyspepsia, Sick Headache,
Sourness of the Stomach,
Loss of Appetite,
Lowliness of Spirits, Colic,
Costiveness, Fever, Ague,
Bilious Fever, Dropsy and Jaundice.

These Medicines are purely Vegetable, and perfectly harmless; but their efficacy is too permanently established in all the Southern and Western States to require any further recommendations. The wise will not fail to givethem a fair trial—this is all that is asked.

LAGRANGE, GA., DEC. 3, 1869.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER, West Point, Ga. Gentlemen: Having witnessed almost daily, for the last fifteen years, the great efficacy of the preparation you are now putting up, known as "Abbett's Medicine," it affords me pleasure to state that I know of no combinations or preparation equal to it in the treatment of Liver Diseases of whatever character, and would cordially recommend it to all who are suffering from derangement of the Liver, and especially the Dyspeptic.

I am, very respectfully,
T. S. BRADFIELD, Druggist.

WEST POINT, GA., OCT. 15, 1869.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER: Gentlemen—I can honestly and confidently recommend L. B. Abbett's Liver or Dyspeptic Medicine, as prepared by you, to the favorable notice of the suffering public. Having used this Medicine myself in my family for twenty years, I can highly recommend it for removing pain or flatulency from the stomach, caused by indigestion. It also has a happy effect in removing constipation of the bowels. I believe it to be the best universal remedy the world has yet discovered for the above named diseases. With my best wishes to you in introducing this valuable Medicine to the public, I remain, Yours, truly, A. K. KENDRICK.

UNIVERSAL LIFE INS. CO.

—NEW YORK—

The Original Joint-Stock Life Ins. Co. of the United States.

The business of this Company is EXCLUSIVELY confined to the Insurance of first class healthy lives.

THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE of the Stock system of Life Insurance, as opposed to the Mutual, is a low rate of premium for a stated sum insured, which is IMMEDIATE, SECURED and CERTAIN; in lieu of a high rate of premium with a promised dividend, which is DISTANT, CONTINGENT and UNCERTAIN; this so-called dividend being merely a return of a portion of the excessive and unnecessary premium charged in the first instance

ILLUSTRATION.

Suppose that an individual aged thirty desires to devote $200 a year for the purpose of effecting an insurance on his life; this amount will immediately secure him in the UNIVERSAL, the sum of $11,751, payable on his decease. This sum, paid to a company charging the ordinary mutual rates, would secure him the sum of $8,474—difference, immediately secured, in favor of the UNIVERSAL, $3,277.

To illustrate the importance to the policy-holder of low premiums in more general terms, it may be stated that by a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium, the same amount of money will secure a policy thirty-three and one-third per cent. greater, and likewise that a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the rate of premium is precisely equivalent to an annual cash dividend of thirty-three and one-third per cent. payable in advance, or to a dividend of forty-five per cent. payable at the end of five years.

By the Stock plan the full cash effect of the premium is immediately secured to the insured, the Company taking all the risk. By the Mutual plan the full value in insurance of the premium paid, is not secured to the policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself.

THE PREMIUMS

charged by the Universal are as low as the actual experience of insured life in this country will justify, and on the ordinary Life and Ten-Year Non-forfeiture policies are nearly one-third lower than those charged by the majority of Mutual Companies.

Special attention is asked to our "Return Premium Plan," by which the amount of the policy is secured simply by the temporary deposit of the annual premiums, which are returned in full, together with the amount assured, to the holder of the policy when it shall become a claim upon the Company. Also to the by which a reduction of one-third is made in the premium after the first annual payment, being, in fact, equivalent to a dividend of 33⅓ per cent. A clause is inserted in the policies issued by the "Universal," in which these results are distinctly specified and guaranteed.

"REDUCTION OF PREMIUM PLAN,"

The Daily Constitution.
OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CITY.
THE LARGEST CITY, COUNTY AND STATE CIRCULATION. DEFIES REFUTATION.
BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO.
I. W. AVERY, Editor.
Morning Edition.
Atlanta, Georgia, August 13, 1870

Oh, Shame, Where is Thy Blush?

The Mr. H. referred to in the above-named article of the 11th instant is a Republican, not a Democrat.

☞ Be it remembered that not a single man in the Georgia Legislature, who is a Democrat, voted for the "prolongation" resolutions.

☞ The delegates appointed to atend the Democratic Convention, to be held in Atlanta on the 17th instant, from the county of Franklin, are Thomas Morris, John M. Freeman and Oliver C. Wyly.

☞ The following appeared in our yesterday morning's issue:

Let every anti-prolongationist be at his post to-day, ready to act and circumvent the efforts of the friends of freedom and equal rights. Georgia expects every man to do his duty.

The substitution of "opponents" for the word "friends," will truly express what we intended.

What has become of that "ancient" individual who said that he had been forty years a Democrat, and intended to vote for prolongation? He must have been somebody who apostatise before the "flood" of popular indignation set in against the infamous prolongation iniquity. All the Democrats we have any knowledge of as in good standing in the Democratic church showed their faith in the people by voting against "prolongation." Our "ancient" must have denied the faith long since.

☞ We insert at his request the explanation of T. P. Beard, (colored,) representative from Richmond, of his position in regard to prolongation. However erroneous may be his convictions, he shows a degree of respect for the opinions of his constituents which it would have been well had some of his white fellow-members of the Legislature imitated. Many of these voted for prolongation against the almost unanimous wishes of their constituents. We insist that there is more charity due to the colored man, who does half-way right, than for the white man who knowingly and willfully does wrong from selfish considerations.

A Common Sense View.

A very great triumph for the people was achieved in the defeat of the prolongation resolutions on Thursday in the House of Representatives. On that occasion every Democrat present in the House voted against the resolutions. With the aid of twelve Republican members, to their honor be it said, this triumph of right over might was secured. The Radical faction, led by the Governor and the Superintendent of the State Road, claim to represent the Republican party in this State. If the Republican party in the North are willing to affiliate with them, so be it.

If Republicans in the North claim that, as a party, they are entitled to the credit of preventing the consummation of the prolongation iniquity, let it be remembered that every Democrat in both houses of the Georgia Legislature opposed it. If only the anti-prolongationists, claiming to be Republicans, are true representatives of the Republican party in Georgia, then that party is very small in this State and would do well not longer to contend with the Democratic party, but unite with it in the effort to hurl the enemies of freedom from power.

Triumph of the Friends of Peace.

The discomfiture of the conspirators against the constitutional rights of the people of Georgia, on yesterday, when the House of Representatives refused, by a vote of sixty-two yeas to seventy-four nays, to reconsider the prolongation resolutions, which, on day before yesterday, were rejected by a majority of nine, is for the time complete. They are expected not to sing so loud nor hold their arrogant heads so high as heretofore.

How soon the conspirators will come forward with some new scheme to deprive the people of their sacred rights, no one can divine. That their persevering ingenuity will soon concoct some other plan to agitate this people, and if possible provoke them to madness, is a supposition entirely consistent with their previous history ever since they have wielded power in this State and had command of the earnings of the State Road, or from any other source could draw upon the public funds.

Take Heed, Young Men.

Those just about to enter upon the active duties of life in our day have before them many examples of successful chicanery, dishonest thrift and felonious impunity, well calculated to demoralize them. It is the part of wisdom to guard against being misled by such pernicious examples.

The four years of bloody internecine strife closed in 1865. Yet the five years that followed have furnished many, alas! too many instances wherein the old man and the vigorous adult were seen yielding to the tempter, that in the guise of necessity persuaded them to barter honor and honesty for a miserable mess of pottage.

Too frequently have we seen gilded villainy stalking about, unwhipped of justice, and honest poverty in despair, unable to excite a tear of sympathy or a word of encouragement. The young men of our day that hold fast to their integrity, and boldly espouse and contend for the right in face of the discouraging examples now so rife, are more of heroes than those who, fifteen years their seniors, never accepted the wages of sin.

The snaky sinner (whether such against policy or against social morality) may be seen in the by-ways and public places, syren-like, singing his own praise, and trimming his way between what is right and what is wrong, vainly conceiting that his integrity of purpose is not suspected and reckless of the consequences of his own pernicious example. Such men as he profess not to be able to see the returning sway of sober thought among the people. Having reveled amid the storm of passion, they cared not to stay so long as they could ride upon the crest of the waves it raised. They now lament the subsiding of the gale, and would fain have all to believe that it is not yet over. They croak still of expediency and point to their own successful cunning and shrewdness in proof of their sagacity and wisdom. A man of this class will sit astraddle of a fence with the canteen of a rebel occupant of a bomb-proof on one shoulder and a haversack full of Radical sweetmeats on the other, and cry, "we know no North, no South, no East, no West," when in truth his patriotism is nothing more than an infinitesimally diluted universal benevolence—a mere cant about philanthropy so like unto that which is practiced by thieves of the Freedman's Bureau stripe, as to render them ludicrous and contemptible. Were it not for the baneful influence of their example, such men would not deserve notice.

Now that the storm of passion is passing away, it behooves young men to be wary of following in the footsteps of political felons whose destiny is to soon pass out of public view, and cease to attract the public gaze; only the record of their guilt in heavy black letter in the annals of our times will bear testimony that they once lived, revelled in corruption and died unlamented.

The Vote on Reconsideration.

The clinching of the victory on the prolongation infamy took place yesterday in the House, and the friends of the law and of citizens' rights found themselves still stronger on reconsideration than on the direct vote.

To reconsider failed by twelve votes, and thus the monstrous attempt to wrong and beggar the State fails, and we have a new lease of life. Every one, except the handful of bad man directly interested in this infamous measure of taking representation away from the people, is overjoyed at the result. While we are cheered and are vastly more hopeful for the future of the power of public opinion in the State, we yet see great reason for circumspection and self-control in this juncture. What the true friends of the South may be able to accomplish for its good and restoration will evidently have to be done under all sorts of pressure and discouragement. We have this time, against great odds, won a most telling and damaging victory for our opponents. But now our trouble is just beginning to assume formidable proportions. Mr. Akerman's letter bodes no good to us, you may depend. He sought not to conceal, and clearly did not hide, what he was about. He went against the infamy of prolongation, not because it was an infamy, but because it was likely to become an inconvenience.

The highest law representative of the government, in honeyed and mincing words, disapproved, or rather failed to favor the monstrous iniquity of members of the Legislature holding over in spite of law and good faith. Heinous as the attempt was on the part of members, shocking as it should have been to the moral sense of everybody, Attorney General Akerman sees in it only a revulsion of popular feeling against his party. He says, speaking of the people of Georgia whom he chooses to regard the Democratic party, "It is true that they will have no just right to complain if the election should not be held, and if the official terms should be improperly prolonged. Such a complaint might justly come from the Republicans, but the Democrats lie under an estoppel. The Democratic party, in September, 1868, imposed upon the people of Georgia a legislative majority which the people had not chosen. In November, 1868, they prevented free election and made the formal voice of the State express a falsehood.

Having kept the people of the State for several months under a Legislature of different politics from that which the people chose, it does not become them to clamor if they are kept two years under a Legislature which has not the sanction of a popular choice for that time. Their example would justify the Republicans in an abuse of present power. But we owe it to ourselves to disregard such depraved examples, and to act on higher principles.

For these reasons, I think an election should be held this year. The Legislature has control, under the constitution, of the particular time of the election, provided it shall not be so long deferred as to extend the terms beyond the constitutional period. I see no grave objection to a postponement of the election until about the 20th of December. By that time, organization could be complete. Legislation, if any is necessary, to secure fairness in the elections, could be perfected; and preparation could be made for enforcing it. There would be time, too, after the commencement of next session of Congress for that body to prohibit the election if it discovered that the people of Georgia had mistaken its will."

Mr. Akerman is a high official under the general government, and is, from his very position, we suppose, entitled to respect. We will not, therefore, attempt to portray the idea we have of the unseemliness and the immorality of Mr. Akerman's language. It will be sufficient for us now to say that this language is ominous of coming trouble and is significant enough. Surely, it will be no great matter for a man who sees frauds against the Radical party in General Gordon's defeat, or outrages against the freedom and purity of elections in the vote cast against General Grant, to find good reasons, and any number of them, why an election next fall, adverse to radical wishes and interests, should "be worse than no election at all." But we must now go to work to consolidate the results of triumph against prolongation. We mean this in no selfish and unworthy, grasping sense. Let us, from this moment, determine to give no mortal, white or black, just cause of offense. The dying effort now is to excite the majority to deeds of offense and violence. This must not be so—need not be so. Prince Eugene said, in reply to a friend, who wondered why his own name was left out of a bulletin of triumph, "The successful may afford to be modest."

So we may, under the fine moral impulse which must spring from this recent wonderful success against intended enemies of the public safety, go on quietly and with dignity to the accomplishment of a still nobler work. Let us, we repeat, be guarded in all we do and all we say. Let us not even give the Radicals the excuse the lamb gave the wolf. We will not even drink at the some branch.

Will this do, Mr. Akerman; and can you, Messieurs Governors, be conciliated and appeased with anything?

☞ Below we reproduce, by request, an article that appeared in the local column of this paper, of August 2d, instant, written by an occasional contributor to these columns, as the edition in which it appeared has been exhausted. As a specimen of classic English composition, it has been said that it has not been excelled by Addison, and for beauty and pathos it is rarely equaled:

DEATH.—At or about the hour of ten o'clock, Sunday morning last, while the sun shone brightly and beautifully, as if in mockery of human hopes and joys, there passed away the immortal spirit of Miss Sallie Solomon. Pale death never had fairer victim. Just out of college, the pet of the household, the father's pride, the mother's joy, lovely and accomplished, with every wish gratified that wealth could supply, or beauty, innocence and truth command, just entering society, and, in "youth's purpureal light," grasping at its pleasures, oh! death, death, remorseless reaper! why did no spark of pity and compassion bid you turn aside from your fell purpose? Alas! she's dead, now, with just eighteen summers crowning her brow. No more for her shall

"Summer stand in the meadows and dress h r bowers, Shyly tended upon by the virgin-eyed flowers."

Her filial conduct will no longer delight her parents' hearts; her matchless grace and beauty are laid in the tomb; her bright hopes are shattered; her sweet voice no more shall brighten her loving companions; but her memory, consigned to the keeping of that Time, which, happily, is not so much the tomb of beauty as its shrine, shall remain to us "a joy forever."

Her friends' hearts are crushed; the bright Sabbath day, to them, seemed weird and ghostly, and repining and sorrow take possession of them; but let them remember that her resigned prayer was, "Not my will, but Thine, oh God, be done."

Her psalm of life is hushed; her harp of life is stilled, and is hung upon the willows, while we sit down by the waters of death and weep.

Oh! it is hard to take to heart the lesson that such deaths will teach, but let no one reject it, for it is one that all must learn, and is a mighty, universal truth. When death strikes down the innocent and young, for every fragile form from which he lets the panting spirit free, a hundred virtues rise, in shape of mercy, charity and love, to walk the world and bless it. In the destroyer's steps there spring up bright creations that defy his power, and his dark path becomes a way of light to Heaven.

The Position of T. P. Beard, Representative from Richmond, on Prolongation, Explained.

ATLANTA, GA., August 12, 1870.

Editors Constitution—SIRS: In an article in your paper this morning, referring to Republicans, the following appears: "Messrs. Belcher, Beard and Bethune, who were not present yesterday, will appear and vote to reconsider." From the above it may be inferred that I was not present.

I was in my seat during all the discussion, and when the final vote was taken on the prolongation question, I could not, consistently with my views of right and justice, vote for the adoption of the resolutions; and as my constituents are divided on the subject of election, I decided not to vote at all. I did not, however, as some say, dodge the vote, but remained in my seat until the House adjourned.

With all due regard for the opinions of those of my own party who differ with me on this question, I can only say, that I have acted as I conscientiously believe to be right and just. If I have erred, it has not been intentional.

Railroad Meeting.

FAYETTEVILLE, GA., Aug. 8, 1870.

A large meeting of the citizens of Fayette county was held to-day at the Court House. Hon. John I. Whitaker, Sanford Dorman, and S. T. W. Minor, were called to the chair, and Charles W. Hodnett and A. E. Stokes requested to act as secretaries. The following persons were appointed a committee to report business for the action of the meeting, viz:

M. M. Tidwell, W. H. Blalock, M. Yates, Johnston Whatley, B. L. Johnson and R. T. Dorsey, who reported a preamble and resolutions strongly urging the necessity as well as the importance of building a railroad as nearly as practicable upon an air line from the city of Atlanta to the city of Columbus, it being, in the opinion of the committee, the only link out of the great chain of railroads, running nearly upon an air-line from New Orleans to New York. They also recommended that an executive committee of the county be appointed by the meeting to urge the passage of a bill securing a charter to said road, and that said committee be requested to call meetings of the citizens at such times as they may think proper, and that upon the obtaining of said charter, open books of subscription for stock in said road, which report was unanimously adopted, and the following names appointed said executive committee, viz: John I. Whitaker, Q. C. Grice, W. H. Blalock, W. J. Gay, Johnston Whatley, J. B. Blalock, I. B. Avere, W. P. Redwine, A. E. Stokes, Larkin Harrison, Paul Favor, W. L. Williams, R. T. Dorsey, George W. Ware, M. M. Tidwell, James Austin, S. H. Gay, John W. Mason, R. E. Morrow, Thomas Byrne, Jesse Barrantine, Richmond Dorman, and L. F. Blalock.

The meeting then appointed a committee to confer with other committees of the different counties through which said contemplated road may run; after which they requested the Atlanta Intelligencer to publish this synopsis of the proceedings of the meeting with a request that the other papers of the city, and those of the city of Columbus, copy.

The meeting then adjourned sine die.

A. E. STOKES,

Letter from Pike County.

ZEBULON, GA., August 10, 1870.

Editors Constitution: To-day, at 10 o'clock A. M., the citizens, regardless of party, assembled at the court-house, in the county of Pike, for the purpose of condemning those members of the Legislature who are in favor of the prolongation resolutions, and to appoint delegates to the Democratic convention in Atlanta.

On motion of Colonel Doyal, Judge H. Green was called to the chair, and, on motion of J. J. Harper, J. F. Redding was requested to act as secretary.

On motion of Mr. Stafford, a committee, consisting of Alvis Stafford, Colonel Doyal, J. A. Yarbrough, J. H. Baker, J. J. Caldwell, J. M. Madden and William Barrett, was appointed to draft resolutions for the consideration of the meeting.

The committee soon returned with the following:

WHEREAS, The constitution of the State of Georgia, framed and ratified by the Republican party of Georgia, provides that the "election for members of the General Assembly shall begin on Tuesday after the first Monday in November of every second year, (which will be in November, 1870,) except the first election, which shall be within sixty days after the adjournment of the convention;" and wheeas, by the act of Congress of the United States, passed on the 15th of July last, admitting Georgia to representation in that body, provides "that nothing in this or any other act of Congress shall be construed to effect the term to which any officer has been appointed, or any member of the General Assembly as prescribed by the constitution of the State of Georgia;" and whereas, the Senate of the State of Georgia has, by a large majority of that body, who appear to fear a canvass of the course pursued by them as the representatives of their several districts, in their unprecedented profligacy and waste of the people's money, the installing into office those who failed to receive a majority of the votes of their respective districts, and many other various objectionable acts, seek to hold on to position by a palpable violation of the constitution of the State and the acts of Congress mentioned:

Resolved, therefore, That we deem the right of suffrage virtually defeated, and of no avail, if a bare majority of the General Assembly have the power, and do, by any acts of theirs, prevent the holding of an election by the voters of the State.

2. Resolved, That we approve the holding of a convention in Atlanta on the 17th instant, in compliance with the call of the executive committee of the Democratic party, and appoint as delegates to said convention, from Pike county—Mr. Alvis Stafford, T. J. Irvin, and Dr. R. V. Reid. Alternates—J. F. Redding, J. T. G. Caldwell, and Dr. J. A. Williams.

The secretary was requested to send the proceedings to THE CONSTITUTION for publication.

JUDGE H. GREEN, Chairman.
J. F. REDDING, Secretary.

Eleven grades of woolen goods, with some half a dozen patterns of each, constitute but a small part of the operations of these mills—their main capacities and energies being devoted to cotton, of which some 150 different styles of fabrics are woven, from canvas-duck to the smoothest and finest ginghams. Upwards of 500 hands are employed in these mills.

Masses of infantry were then brought up, and at four o'clock in the afternoon, McMahon was forced under order to retreat, which was effected in good order, the enemy's pursuit being without vigor, and by no means troublesome. SAUSAGES are now selling dog cheap!

ATLANTA was visited with another pleasant shower yesterday evening.

MRS. YOUNG J. ALLEN, of China, is now stopping at Major Witts, on Houston, near Peachtree street, and will be pleased to see her friends.

REV. W. M. CRUMLEY has returned to the city, and will occupy the pulpit of Trinity Church to-morrow at the usual hours.

A SPECIAL train will leave Whitehall crossing, at 5 o'clock this afternoon, for the Race Track. Parties wishing to see the great race between Belle Brandon and Ned Atwater can go and return for fifty cents.

THE money drawer of Buzbee & Edwards was robbed on Thursday morning of $104 in currency and a check for $144 50. That evening the check was surreptitiously placed back in the drawer. No clue to the purloingatiunist.

YESTERDAY two members of the General Assembly met at the telegraph office. As they were about to dispatch home the death of prolongation, one said, "A glorious victory"; the other "A h--ll of a defeat."

MR. CHARLES H. ELYEA, an old and popular citizen, and conductor on the Western & Atlantic Railroad, died yesterday morning, and will be buried this morning at 9 o'clock. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

CLARKE COUNTY.—The delegates from Clarke county to the Democratic convention next week are Hon. B. H. Hill, Colonel Jno. Billups, A. P. Cobb and Wm. Haygood. Alternates—Colonel John H. Christy, M. Sheats and General Browne.

OUR exchanges are publishing a statement that a negro girl was struck by lightning and killed, in Atlanta, on Monday. Had they referred to the columns of THE CONSTITUTION, they would have seen that the statement was erroneous.

COLONEL D. W. LEWIS, Secretary of the Georgia State Agricultural Society, informs us that the Western and Atlantic Railroad, Atlanta and West Point Railroad, and the Georgia Railroad, will convey visitors to the Agricultural Convention, on the 16th, at half fare.

WE regret to learn that death has invaded the family circle of our friend John C. Hendrix, and taken one of his "jewels" away. However bright that jewel shone upon earth, it now shines with redoubled brilliancy in the World of Light. We heartily sympathize with Mr. Hendrix in his bereavement.

THE canine races inaugurated yesterday was a success. Up to dark 108 canines had been quartered at the calaboose. Boys of all colors and conditions, sexes and sizes, were busy in capturing "tray, blanche and sweetheart." They were not particular as to the size—puppies with eyes unopened did as well as full grown ones. The old saying that every dog has his day is changed. It is now a day for every dog to be captured. Few of the dogs know that their redeemer liveth.

WE invite attention to the card of C. H. Strong, cotton broker and commission merchant. His office is at the warehouse of the Georgia Loan and Trust Company, on Broad street. Judge Strong is a gentleman of acknowledged reputation and ability in cotton circles, and his judgment is considered A No. 1 upon any question connected with cotton. Having enlarged experience and ample facilities at his command, those who entrust business to him will find him O K.

AT a meeting of Republicans last night, at the City Hall, Y. Murdock was called to the chair, and —— Cook acted as secretary. An address to Governor Bullock, requesting the removal of Foster Blodgett, Superintendent of the State Road, was adopted; also, a resolution suggesting the appointment of H. C. Holcombe to that position. Resolutions of a want of confidence in Mr. Blodgett were also adopted. A resolution was adopted returning thanks to Mr. H. I. Kimball for employing 500 hands. The late hour at which we write precludes any extended notice of the meeting.

LAGRANGE DISTRICT—FOURTH ROUND.—LaGrange, September 10 and 11; Meriwether Circuit, at Warm Springs Camp-Ground, September 17 and 18; West Point and Long Cane, at Long Cane, September 24 and 25; Newnan, October 1 and 2; Palmetto, at Senorta, October 8 and 9; Troup, at Pleasant Grove, October 15 and 16; Whitesville, October 22 and 23; Franklin Circuit, October 29 and 30; Grantville, November 5 and 6; Ch. Springs, November 12 and 13; Greenville and Trinity, November 19 and 20.

N. B.—It is earnestly requested that every official be present at the conferences.

FOR upwards of a century there has been known in Germany one panacea for general debility, nervous diseases, despondency, impaired digestion, &c., &c., which, while it was entirely harmless to the most delicate persons, was known to be a most powerful remedial agent where the system required a tonic or invigorator, and which could be relied upon. That preparation, at considerable expense and trouble, Messrs. Jacob Lippman & Bro., of Savannah, Ga., have succeeded in getting the right to manufacture in the United States, and is now universally known and used as Lippman's Great German Bitters.

MARIETTA, GA., August 9, 1870.

MESSRS. BRADFIELD & CO—Gentlemen: You will please ship us another supply of your invaluable Female Regulator, and forward bill per mail.

We are happy to state that this remedy gives better satisfaction than any article we sell. We have been selling it since 1868, and witnessed many remarkable cures by it. Among others there was a lady friend of ours who was sallow and sickly until she was twenty-six years old, at which age she married; her husband lived two years and died; she continued in bad health; in fact, she has never been what a woman ought to be. A few months after the death of her husband she saw your advertisement, and came to our store and bought a bottle of your Regulator from us, and took it according to directions. It has cured her sound and well, brought her regular monthly periods on, and to-day she is a hearty, blooming widow, with the use of but two bottles of your Regulator, costing her only three dollars, when she had tried several physicians and spent a great deal of money without any benefit.

Wishing you great success with your valuable remedies, we are respectfully, yours, etc. W. ROOT & SONS.

FAST LIVING AND ITS CONSEQUENCES.—When "fast life" has undermined the strength, destroyed the appetite, impaired the digestion, and stolen the hue of health from the cheek—when the hand trembles, the spirits droop, and the whole physical and mental organization languishes, is it possible to repair the evil and restore the dilapidated system to full health and vigor? We answer that it is. Hundreds of cases have been cited, thousands might be cited, in which this regeneration has been accomplished by the regular and persistent use of PLANTATION BITTERS. Abstinence from the indulgences which have wrought the mischief is, of course, one of the means of restoration. But it is not sufficient alone. The consequences remain after the cause has been abandoned. A wholesome and genial tonic is absolutely necessary to arouse the corporeal and mental energies from their state of collapse. This good work it is the mission of the Plantation Bitters to perform. But no other stimulant must be taken.

aug9deod1w&w1t

FALSE PRETENCES.—The vast and continually increasing sales of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have provoked the envy of a certain class of dealers in various parts of the country, who are trying to substitute their utterly worthless local nostrums for the most popular proprietary medicine in the world. These imposters hope by their false statements to obtain from the millions who patronize the great American Tonic, a sufficient number of customers to make their speculations upon the health of their neighbors profitable. As the demand for Hostetter's Bitters is now so large and urgent as to tax to their fullest extent the facilities for its manufacture, these petty attempts to wring in the meremest trash by false representations, are of little consequence to its proprietors. They are, however, a serious evil to the victimized. If, for example, at this warm season, when a real invigorant is greatly needed, the sufferer from general debility, indigestion, biliousness or nervous weakness, is coaxed into using a wishy-washy compound without any medicinal virtue, instead of the sovereign specific in which the rarest tonic and alterative vegetable elements are scientifically combined, it is obvious that he will rue the day when he allowed himself to be thus deluded. It is in the interest of the parties who have been or may be influenced by the persuasion of plausible charlatans, that this article is published. With the light of twenty years experience to guide him, why should the invalid take a leap in the dark?

july10-dtf

From the Norfolk Daily Journal, Dec. 11, 1869.

KOSKOO.—This medicine is rapidly gaining the confidence of the people, and the numerous testimonials of its virtues, given by practitioners of medicine, leaves no doubt that it is a safe and reliable remedy for impurity of the blood, liver disease, etc.

The last Medical Journal contains an article from Prof. R. S. Newton, M. D., President of the E. Medical College, city of New York, that speaks in high terms of its curative properties, and gives a special recommendation of Koskoo to the practitioners of medicine. This is, we believe, the first instance where such medicines have been officially endorsed by the Faculty of any of the medical colleges, and reflects great credit upon the skill of Dr. Lawrence, its compounder, and also puts "Koskoo" in the van of all other medicines of the present day. THE BANYAN TREE.

'Twas a fair scene wherein they stood,
A green and sunny glade amid the wood,
And in the midst an aged banyan grew.
It was a goodly sight to see
That venerable tree;
Far o'er the lawn, irregularly spread,
Fifty straight columns propped its lofty head,
And many a long depending shoot
Seeking to strike its root,
Straight, like a plummet, grew towards the ground.

Some on the lower boughs, which crossed their way,
Fixing their bearded fibres, round and round,
With many a ring and wild contortion wound;
Some to the passing winds, at times, with sway
Of gentle motion swung;
Others of younger growth, unmoved, were hung,
Like stone-drops from the cavern's fretted height.
Beneath was smooth and fair to sight,
Nor weeds, nor briars, deform'd the natural floor;
And through the leafy cope which bowered it o'er
Came gleams of checker'd light.
So like a temple did it seem, that there
A pious heart's first impulse would be prayer.

KOSKOO!

THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which KOSKOO has attained in all parts of country

AS A GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE!

And the Large Numbers of Testimonials which are constantly being received from Physicians, and persons who have BEEN CURED by its use, is CONCLUSIVE PROOF OF its REMARKABLE VALUE.

AS A BLOOD PURIFIER,

IT HAS NO EQUAL,

BEING POSITIVELY

The Most Powerful Vegetable Alterative Yet Discovered.

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

"The life of the flesh is in the Blood," is a Scriptural maxim that science proves to be true. The people talk of bad blood, as the cause of many diseases, and like many popular opinions, this of bad blood is founded in truth.

The symptoms of bad blood are usually quite plain—bad Digestion—causes imperfect nutrition, and consequently the circulation is feeble, the soft tissues loose their tone and elasticity, and the tongue becomes pale, bread, and frequently covered with a pasty, white coat. This condition soon shows itself in roughness of the skin, then in ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE diseases, and when long continued, results in serious lesions of the Brain, Liver, Lungs, or urinary apparatus. Much, very much, suffering is caused by impure blood. It is estimated by some that one-fifth of the human family are effected with scrofula in some form.

When the Blood is pure, you are not so liable to any disease. Many impurities of the Blood arise from impure diseases of large cities. Eradicate every impurity from the fountain of life, and good spirits, fair skin and vital strength will return to you.

KOSKOO,

AS A

Liver Invigorator!

STANDS UNRIVALLED.

Being the only KNOWN Medicine that EFFICIENTLY stimulates and CORRECTS the hepatic secretions and functional DERANGEMENTS of the LIVER, WITHOUT DEBILITATING the system. While it acts freely upon the Liver instead of copious purging, it gradually changes the discharges to a perfectly natural state.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT AND OF SOME OF THOSE DISEASES PRODUCED BY IT.

A sallow or yellow color of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, sometimes, headache; bitter or bad taste in the mouth, internal heat; in many cases a dry, teasing cough; unsteady appetite; sometimes sour stomach, with a raising of the food; a bloated or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the side, back, or breast, and about the shoulders; constipation of the bowels; piles, flatulence, coldness of the extremities, etc.

KOSKOO!

Is a remedy of Wonderful Efficacy in the cure of diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder. In these Affections it is as near a specific as any remedy can be. It does its work kindly, silently, and surely. The Relief which it affords is both certain and perceptible.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Persons unacquainted with the structure and functions of the Kidneys can not estimate the importance of their healing action.

Regular and sufficient action of the Kidneys is as important, nay, even more so, than regularity of the bowels. The Kidneys remove from the Blood those effete matters which, if permitted to remain, would speedily destroy life. A total suspension of the urinary discharges will occasion death from thirty-six to forty-eight hours.

When the Urine is voided in small quantities at the time, or when there is a disposition to Urinate more frequently than natural, or when the Urine is high colored or scalding with weakness in the small of the back, it should not be trifled with or delayed, but Koskoo should be taken at once to remedy the difficulty, before a lesion of the organs takes place. Most of the diseases of the Bladder originate from those of the Kidneys, the Urine being imperfectly secreted in the Kidneys, prove irritating to the Bladder and Urinary passages. When we recollect that medicine never reaches the Kidneys through the general circulation of the Blood, we see how necessary it is to keep the Fountain of Life Pure.

KOSKOO!

Meets with GREAT SUCCESS in the CURE of

DISEASES OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM,

Almost nine-tenths of our people suffer from nervous exhaustion, and are, therefore, liable to its concomitant evils of mental depression, confused ideas, softening of the brain, insanity, and complete breaking down of the general health. Thousands are suffering to-day with broken-down nervous systems, and, unfortunately, tobacco, alcohol, late hours, over-work (mental and physical), are causing diseases of the nervous system to increase at a fearful rate.

The symptoms to which diseases of the nervous system give rise, may be stated as follows:

A dull, heavy feeling in the head, sometimes more or less severe pain or headache; Periodical Headache, Dizziness, Noises or Ringing in the Head; Confusion of Ideas; Temporary Loss of Memory; Dejection of Spirits; Starting during Sleep; Bad Dreams; Hesitation in Answering Questions; Dullness of Hearing; Twitching of the Face and Arms, etc., which, if not promptly treated, lead to Paralysis, Delirium, Insanity, Impotency, Apoplexy, etc., etc.

ROSADALIS!

ROSADALIS

THE Great American Health Restorer, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.

Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:

I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of Scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro', Tenn., says:

I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

BUILDING PAPER.

This is a hard, compact paper, like an ordinary book-cover, and is saturated with tar and used on the outside of frame buildings, under the clapboards, also under shingles and floors, to keep out damp, cold and heat. It is also used on the inside, not saturated, instead of Plastering, and makes a warm and cheap wall. It costs only from $6 to $30 (according to size) to cover houses on the outside. ☞ Samples and descriptive circular sent free.

SWEET QUININE

IS A RECENT IMPROVEMENT.

Replaces the use of the Bitter Sulphate Quinine, with which all are familiar.

Dose for dose, it is

WARRANTED

Fully Equal in Every Way to Bitter Quinine,

And like it, is the one

Great, Positive, and Unfailing

CURE

FOR ALL DISEASES OF MALARIOUS ORIGIN.

Fever and Ague,
Intermittent Fever,
Chill Fever,
Remittent Fever,
Bilious Fever,
Dumb Ague.

And the long train of disorders following these when neglected.

SWEET QUININE

is made solely from PERUVIAN BARK (so is Bitter Quinine), therefore is of Vegetable origin, and not a Mineral Poison, but on the contrary is proved to be one of the elements found in the blood of all healthy persons.

SWEET QUININE

acts as an antidote to, as well as a cure for malarial or miasmatic poison, the absorption of which by the lungs causes Intermittent Fevers, etc. The only advantage claimed for over the use of old Bitter Quinine is the entire absence of that intense, persistent bitterness, which is the latter is an insurmountable obstacle to its use with most persons, and always with children.

SWEET QUININE

is in two forms—in Powder, for the use of Physicians and Druggists, and Fluid, for use in the family and for the general public.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

WHY is it that so many children die under the age of five years? That a large proportion of children die under that age, has long been a subject of remark, and without a satisfactory cause ascertained, it is certain.

Also, it is known that worms exist in the human system from its earliest infancy; therefore parents, especially mothers, who are more constantly with their children, can not be too observing of the symptoms of worms; for so surely as they exist, can they be safely and certainly removed from the most Delicate Infant, by the timely use of

B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge.

It is perfectly harmless, contains no Mercury, being a purely Vegetable Composition, and is safe to be administered with the utmost safety to children of all ages.

Worm Confections, made more for the purpose of pleasing the palate than of overcoming the disease, have been manufactured all over the country, but their short lease of life is nearly expired, and B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge continues to grow in favor daily.

CAUTION.

Should occasion require you to purchase B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, be particularly careful to see that the initials are B. A. This is the article that has been so

Favorably Known Since 1829,

And purchasers must insist on having it, if they do not wish to have an imitation forced upon them.
